SHORT CONTENTS OF OVERLEVEN DOOR WERELDRECHT = SURVIVAL BY WORLD LAW OF OCTOBER OF 2013

Pages 1 to 3

About national states, about machines -- about the whole technological-industrial civilization opinions differ very much. Hegel claims that the individual has no value except as a subject of the state. Oscar Wilde wants the state to be an instrument of Socialism providing everybody with the necessary means of subsistence, making thus Individualism possible, i.e. the freedom for every individual to develop according to his true being.

Hegel and Wilde, each in his own way, thus consider the role of the state to be utterly worthwhile. On the contrary, non-violent thinkers and pioneers like Gandhi, Tolstoi, Vinoba and Lanza del Vasto believe that the role of the state should be extremely reduced and that people ought to live in small, basically agricultural and artisanal communities.

The latter idea we certainly consider to be a beautiful ideal. However, we are actually living in national states and we cannot replace them right now by small, almost autonomous villages. Hence, we defend the existence of constitutional states able to protect fundamental rights and to realise social security for everybody. Moreover, in order to abolish war, arms races and to better tackle other survival problems, we strive for the creation of a constitutional, democratic and federal world state with limited but real legislative, executive and judicial power. This would also make it possible to better tackle civil wars, without the danger that this would lead to a larger armed conflict : nowadays, military interventions in Syria risk to entail a world war...

But how to realize world federalism? First of all, we demand the instauration of a second, directly elected UNO-chamber. This, in a way, would be a kind of world parliament already and could, in the course of time, evolve to a world constituent assembly.

Pages 4 & 5

Some people assert that the movement for world citizenship and world federalism is old, if not dead and that our efforts have not lead to results.

What to answer to this? It is true that the great times of that movement lie decades behind us. Nonetheless, world law and world government remain one of the necessities to solve the survival problems mankind is faced with, in the first place the horrible problem of war and peace.

It is not true, moreover, that nothing is happening anymore. To illustrate this we mention a few activities :

4th of June, 2013 : Day of Peace and the Environment of the UNO. On this occasion Jacques Lefrançois, registered as a world citizen for more than sixty years, organised an assembly at the feet of Manneken-Pis, that is the statue of a small urinating boy in Brussels, which Jacques baptized Manneken-Peace. (Manneken signifies little boy.) The city of Brussels had dressed Manneken-Pis with a shirt showing a peace symbol. However, in spite of the sympathising attitude of the city, only a good dozen of persons came to the meeting place. They were -you could say- of good stuff, and this also applies to the speeches about the actuality of the necessity of mundial institutions.

2nd and 11th Sept., 2013 : Meeting of our international council in Paris. The entrance of the secretariat in the boulevard Vincent Auriol will be enforced (to avoid burglaries). Electronic registration of world citizens will become possible towards the end of this year. Laurent Son, volunteer for many years, will be hired as a halftime employee. (1)

Garry Davies, now about ninety, stood at the cradle in 1949 in Paris of the International Registry of World Citizens. He became known on a worldwide scale among other things by his book “My Country is the World”, written in the fifties.

About him Marjolein Van Heemstra, member of the WFBN = Dutch World Federalist Movement, wrote a play that will be put on the stage in several places later on this year, also in Paris 11e, in a French version, from the 4th till the 8th of December, in La Maison des Métallos. (1)

Address of the WFBN = Wereld Federalisten Beweging Nederland : Laan van Nieuw Oost-Indië 252, Den Haag, tel. 00.31.(0)7014 78196, email : wfbn@gmail.com .

21st of June, 2013 : The Peoples Congress launched an appeal to candidates for the 13th elections. (1)

27th till 30th Aug. 2013 : 34th session of the Institut d'Etudes Mondialistes = Institute for Mundialist Studies in 4690 Eben-Emael (Belgium), Moulin de Brouckay. For more information : aigs.mg@aigs.be or AIGS, c/o Marc Garcet, 11, rue Istahelle, 4699 Bassenge (Belgium). (1)

World Solidarity Against Hunger / Solidarité Mondiale contre la Faim continues working on many projects, especially in Africa, but also in e.g. Latin America and even in France. For more information : www.globidar.org , email : info@globidar.org or Monda Solidareco, “Les Nids”, 49190 Saint Aubin de Luigne (France).

4th October, 2013 till 4th January, 2014 : exposition in Aix en Provence (France), 8-10, rue des Allumettes, about the famous writer Albert Camus. At the end of the forties Camus was among the first persons to be registered as a world citizen. At the time he collaborated closely with Garry Davies. On the 15th January of 2014 there will also be an exposition about him in the Palais du Luxembourg (= French Senate) in Paris. (1)

17th till 25th October, 2013 : APNU, who unite all forces striving for a directly elected UNO-chamber, organises all sorts of activities during that week, also a meeting in the European Parliament on the 16th and 17th of October. More information : www.worldparliament.org .

20th March, 2023 : At the equinox of Spring, viz. of Autumn, days are more or less equally long everywhere on earth. Therefore it was baptized Day of the Unity of Mankind. Many activities will take place on that occasion. Further information can be found on : www.recim.org/ascop/pr08-fr.htm

Barry Trower warns the world incessantly about the fact that for decennia military and other secret services have invented all sorts of anti-personnel radiation weapons. He reveals that immense crimes against humanity have been perpetrated with them.

The European Coalition Against Covert Harrassment, a European branch of the International Center Against The Abuse Of Covert Technologies, works on an objective basis, i.e. it measures radiations emitted by human bodies, also -when possible- in Faraday Cages. Later on, it hopes to make the results of its work worldwidely known.

What Snowden revealed was made public in the nineties already and we knew it much earlier : the NSA is listening to and reading all our telecommunications.

We are constantly being irrigated by planes with several sorts of chemicals that become visible in the form of chemtrails. This would be done in the framework of geo-engineering. The latter can be considered a weapon. Indeed, he who can manipulate the weather in a country, can destroy or subjugate it as well. The particles present in the chemtrails could also interact with waves spread through the atmosphere by HAARP and other installations of this type. In this way HAARP could to some extent be used as well for so called mind control. But if all this is true, what can we do? To believe that we cannot do anything is precisely what mighty, partly utterly criminal cryptocracies want us to do, so that they can silently continue doing with us and with the word what they want to.

People who know that all sorts of abuses with radiation weapons (and also with chemical and biological weapons) have been going on for decades, are easily considered crazy. Persons making public that experimentations on humans were done also with radio-active materials were treated in the same way, till the moment at least that president Clinton confirmed that such horrific practices had taken place really.

Bradley Manning showed us that the barrier between making war and perpetrating war crimes must be called narrow.

In 1998 we launched a Declaration of Concerned Citizens (in five languages) :

In several countries of the world individuals and associations are denouncing what they consider to be chilling crimes against humanity. They assert that in the course of the last decades secret military services and the like have been developing technologies allowing to submit individuals and groups to a variety of harmful waves/energies. In this way unwilling and mostly unwitting victims are said to be spied on, to be manipulated, damaged in their health and as human beings, tortured and possibly assassinated.

As practices contrary to all principles of the constitutional state cannot be considered state secrecies, we believe that there is an urgent necessity:

- 1) to examine in a serious and persevering way in how far these technologies really exist;*
- 2) to forbid them by law;*
- 3) to apply penal law and to make possible the application of civil law to those who misused them in a criminal way ;*
- 4) to put all scientific research in this field under severe surveillance of the constitutional state, i.e. to submit it to strict legal conditions.*

Addendum of 2007

We shall send the above Declaration to :

- 1) the Conference on Non-Lethal Weapons in Ettlingen (Germany) that takes place from May 21 to May 23, 2007;
- 2) the Commissions on Human Rights and Public Security of the European Parliament, asking them to work on Par. 27 of Resolution A40005/1999 that runs as follows : “(the E.P.) calls for an international convention introducing a global ban on all developments and deployments of weapons which might enable any form of manipulation of human beings”;
- 3) the Council on Human Rights of the U.N.O.;
- 4) the Office of the Prosecutor of the International Criminal Court;
- 5) national Ministers of Justice, asking them to propose a law that would make severely punishable all torturing/manipulating of innocent civilians (or of prisoners) by invisible energies.

This declaration can still be signed. Send a message or -preferably- a letter to us running : “I sign the Declaration Of Concerned Citizens.” The list of the signatories is sent to the signatories themselves.

Dr. Robert Duncan published a book “The Matrix Deciphered”, in which he explains how secret technologies/weapons are used in a way violating the most rudimentary human rights. He knows what he is talking about : he holds multiple degrees from Harvard University and Dartmouth College in Applied Sciences and Business. He has worked on projects for the Department of Defence, CIA and Justice Department in his career.

Proinsias De Rossa, member of the E.P., asked the competent parliamentarian commission what had been done in view of the realization of the international convention asked for by the E.P. in Res. A40005/99 (see above in the Declaration). The answer? “The commission is unaware of any proposal to start negotiations on an international agreement covering the activities in question.”

Out of a CIA-report of 1960, of which we possess a copy, it appears that this agency was examining the possibility of mind and behaviour control at the time already.

Mojmir Babacek, P.O.Box 52, 51101Turnov (Czech Rep.) wrote an excellent study about „Psycho-electronic secret warfare”. It can be found on <http://www.hiddenmysteries.org/mind/exposed/ex122804a.html>

FISA is an acronym for Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act. A secret court can classify you as a dangerous or virtually dangerous or subversive element without you to know it. If you happen to know it nonetheless, you are not allowed to make it public...
